<https://www.commonwealthu.edu/about/university-senate-governance>

- A. Academic Distinction Policy: Tess Fosse explained that this is a walkover policy.
- B. Final Exam Policy: Brooke Harlowe stated that this is revised from an old PRP. Trying to assess how the final exams fit best for each discipline. Yvette Ingram asked that this be an undergrad policy. Brooke responded that they are waiting to hear back from grad council. Carina Howell, (Professor of Biology, CU) asked if there could be language about rescheduling exams if there are more than 2 in a day. Brooke said that it would not be hard to put that in.
- C. Academic Major and Minor Policy: Tess Fosse said that this helps a student to declare.
- D. Add/Drop Policy: Tess Fosse explained this is the period in which courses can be added or dropped. Mostly PASSHE driven.
- E. Attendance Policy: Tess Fosse stated this policy deals with class attendance expectations.

- F. Commencement Participation Policy: Tess Fosse said that this is who can walk across the stage at commencement. Only the degree recipient. Brooke Harlowe added that it allows leeway for winter commencement to walk in spring.
- G. Grade Appeal Policy: Brooke Harlowe explained this is separated out from the grievance policy.
- H. Pass/Fail Policy: Tess Fosse said this deals with the timing students can choose to take a course as pass/fail and how many courses allowed.
- I. Student Disruptive Behavior Policy: Brooke Harlowe said that this is the acceptable behavior for the academic setting.
- J. Undergraduate Student Academic and Dismissal Policy: Brooke Harlowe explained these are the conditions in which a student can be dismissed.
- K. ADA Policy: Tess Fosse stated that this is driven by federal law and has been vetted by legal.
- L. Academic Grievance Policy: Brooke Harlowe explained this is the students' rights to due process if there has been a violation or academic injustice.

VII. Constituency Reports

- A. President: Jeff Osgood, (Interim President, CU) reported on his great tour in Florida with the Alumni. Very proud to hear stories from Lock Haven alums. Thank you to all who are participating in the Dean searches. Lock Haven has one Women's wrestling participant going to nationals. Thank you to Rick Goulet for being an amazing leader.
